

乐理1整理

符号 Signs

Italian sign

Meaning

gradually getting louder (the sign for crescendo)

gradually getting quieter (the sign for decrescendo or diminuendo) accent the note (play with emphasis); slur; perform smoothly

lie; hold the value of both notes staccato, detached

pause on the note or rest metronome mark; 节拍器标志, here the number '60' tells us play at a tempo of 60 crotchet beats in a minute

repeat the section between the two signs (if the first sign is missing, repeat from the beginning.)